TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Catherine has been a student at Cheltinghome Girls High School since 1995 and at the time of leaving had completed a course of study leading to the award of the 1996 Higher School Certificate. During this time her attendance and punctuality have been good and she has had a responsible attitude towards all her work.

Despite the fact that she has only attended the school for the last two years, since her arrival she has been a reliable and valued member of the school orchestra performing in all their many performances during 1995 and 1996. She was also involved in the Australia Quality Council Enterprise work experience initiative known as the E Team at Hewlett Packard in November 1995. This was with a group of students who were trained to examine on site the problems facing a particular business, the group using quality management techniques. They presented their findings and recommendations to the management of the business and also carried out an evaluation at a later stage. She has received several significant awards, these include distinctions in the Australian Schools English competition and the Australian Mathematics competition in 1995, distinction in the NSW science competition coming equal first in the grade and a distinction in the Australian Schools Computer Studies competition.

As a student she is capable, intelligent, cooperative and extremely diligent. Her preparation is always thorough and her quality of work is high. She is unfailingly reliable and both polite and courteous in her dealings with staff and students. She has a particularly delightful sense of humour — none of us will ever forget the infamous custard incident of 1996 — and is a challenging and enthusiastic student to teach. Her appearance is indicative of her concern for her presentation and is always of a high standard.

Cheltinghome is proud to have been a part of Catherine's education and the school community wishes her the best in her future endeavours.
